

Tenth Hour Calling, Slow Down

I have seen you there from the moment I created you
Every whim ever whimper every single thing you do
I send my nature to walk among you now
Let me speak to you and I will show you how

To slow down

Why are you crying, but i already know
Yes I saw what you did, you can trust me to let it go
Yes I've been here calling to you through the night
Be still my child, be caught up in my light

So slow down
