

Tenth Hour Calling, You Alone

There is only one who holds the key
To everlasting life
You are the answer
There is only one who can take your life
And make everything just right
You are the answer

You alone deserve my praise, You alone deserve my all
You alone can take my tears and turn them into joy
You can take my filthy rags of black and turn them into white

You can make me sing a song of praise
Right inside a prison cell
You are the answer
You have calmed the raging storm of life
With a calming voice you speak
You are the answer
