

Terra Naomi, Ghosts Of Happy Endings

Well it's been a hundred hours since i don't know when I climbed up to the roof and climbed back down again
Why'd you go away?
Why'd you go away?

Well i chewed up all my nails and spit them out and then
I pulled out all my hair and glued it down again
Try to make you fade
Try to make you fade

And why'd you have to go i wanted you to stay
I'm chasing all the ghosts of happy endings away
Just make it through today

Well the sun is in the western sky that's where it stays
Been living on caffeine and methadone for days
Pray to waste away
Pray to waste away

Why'd you have to go i wanted you to stay
I'm chasing all the ghosts of happy endings away
Just make it through today
Make it through today

And i'm looking through the photographs
To prove there really was a past
To prove that there was once more than today

And why'd you have to go i wanted you to stay
I'm chasing all the ghosts of happy endings away
Just make it through today
