i was awakened of an angel in my bed he said he'd been flyin and somehow he bumped his head i made it all better before he went to sleep and then i whispered right to him like a message to his dreams chorus:

when you feel like the raindrops that been fallin disappearin in the wind when you feel like the spaceship thats been flying lightyears up on him when you feel like the last one in the land they say you cant come in when nobody else does i will , i'll be lovin you still a chikka chikka ching ching a chikka a chikka da ching da ching

a yeah a woo

i got a confession that angel is my man i just wanna tell him so that he understands baby im down for you and all your goin through and when the plot thickens so does my love for you
