

Tetsuya Shibata & Shawn McPherson, Beowulf B

You got nothing,
And nothing's got you,
I can see your fear,
It surrounds you.
Built with strife and insight,
But it's not enough,
I'll defeat and discreet your every move.

Instinctual just take your life,
One step, one breath you're under my knife.
Killing slow is the way I conquer,
Torture test, can't wait no longer.

With your first step you will burn,
Can't control your hate you have learned.
Killing slow is the way I conquer,
Until you know the meaning of suffer.

Step twice you invite and welcome death.
Pay homage to me with your last breath.
Say goodbye to a life that you once knew,
Along with every being that was before you.
