

Texas, Walk The Dust

I find you're on my back again
Cause your husband's weighing you down
And you say you find it hard to cope
Feel like leaving and not going home
Sister, I thought you were stronger than me
But I guess you've lost the way
And I see your confusion oh, so clear
Yet you love him more each day

I want you to find a reason
To walk the dust
I want you to find a reason
To walk the dust
Nothing has changed
you're still the same
Are you willing to walk the dust

I guess that it's too soon to tell
But I wish that you'd wake up
Cause somehow you still believe in him
And you give him all your love
Seven months already gone
Do you feel you've let yourself down
And all I can do is sit and watch
Watch him change your mind

I want you to find a reason
To walk the dust
I want you to find a reason
To walk the dust
Nothing has changed
you're still the same
Are you willing to walk the dust

Take my hand there's still time
Take my hand there's still time
My head is filled with words to say
But I only find them slip away
I know it's hard to let it go
Take my hand
Take my hand there's still time
Sister take my hand there's still time
I know it's hard to let it go
I know it's hard to let it go
Take my hand
