

Thalarion, Perun's Thunder Of Revenge Will Storm

I am destiny, I come back in the night
And no moon can hinder at my return
As I can't stop the circle of time Covered by with darkness I call into the tempest

"I will be back, beyond the mist of the Carpathian forest the forest in which I was once born I will bring the message of those who have died in disgrace
In the cold solitude folded in fog of milleniums
I will ignite the fires of the magic ancient era"

"I will be back, and my omen will be eternal
although I am unseen my powers won't vanish with my black art I shall resurrect the gods
who have slept in the deepness of human heart"

"I am he, who will come in the form of mist, the mist that will surround also God himself I shall cross the threshold of eternal space
And in the name of Perun's thunder, I will take my revenge"

although I am unseen my powers won't vanish
with my black art I shall resurrect the gods
who have slept in the deepness of human heart"
