

Thaurorod, Tormented No More

Once I've heard call of my name
And I have faced heart of night in my veins
I have walked in the shadows
Blessed by the dawn
Have I been reborn??
Now I am tormented no more

As I am waiting for the glorious sun
I'm sleeping quietly by the morning I reach the land
And as my dreams were buried in pale light of moon
I kept on wondering through the fields of unknown

I have wings to fly cross the skylines
I'm determined to fight for my pride
Hear my name as I'm calling for you
Walk with me and you'll see reality

Once I've heard call of my name
And I have faced heart of night in my veins
I have walked in the shadows
Blessed by the dawn
Have I been reborn??
Now I am tormented no more

And by the waves I will be drifting away
I spread my wings again in the shades of the day
And once my dreams were buried in pale light of moon
I kept on wondering through the fields of unknown

I have wings to fly cross the skylines
I'm determined to fight for my pride

Once I've heard call of my name
And I have faced heart of night in my veins
I have walked in the shadows
Blessed by the dawn
Have I been reborn
Now I am tormented no more
