The 3rd And The Mortal, Death-Hymn

Dreams carry me into sleep As I sigh I write your name in my Soul As I search your words I cast my Destiny on to you

Deadly whisper in my ear Finally me now, my time has come

I never thought I would feel this way I never thought I would go this far I never thought I would surrender I never thought I would give in to you

To give me a sign before I die Show me you've heard my prayer Veil of mist, hazy my view The entrance to Death Appears
