

The 7th Guest, Unforgettable Moments

Flowers spread across the room
We're bound by our shiny golden rings

What it is you'll never know
Hear me on the radio
Wake up next to me, say hello
Say hello

Anything that money buys
What you touch you hypnotize
We're lucky don't you know
To be here at all

Running through a cloud of rice
Everybody dressed so nice
Wedding bells, we promised them
Such a wonderful time
Such a wonderful time

"What it is I'll never know
But it's really too good to be true
And who you are, I lose it all
Unforgettable moments with you"

Holding hands, one on your hip
Dancing in a bear-paw grip
Swirling through and spinning past

Moon above the fire cracks
Following your footprint tracks
Down by the setting beach
Where it's no so cold together
It's not as cold together

"What it is I'll never know
But it's really too good to be true
And who you are, I lose it all
Unforgettable moments with you"