The Afters, We Are The Sound

Now is the time we have Take it, never give it back Say what you mean to say This could be your only chance

Everybody's watching out For someone who can show them how To be what they wanna be and Stand never backing down

Here we are Here we are

We are the sound We are the siren We're all around And we won't stop singing it out

Shout it out Like you believe it We'll break it down When we all start singing it out Shout it out now

Silence is an enemy That keeps us from the things we need It ages but it never grows So quiet that we start to bleed

Lets shake it off and let it go Forgetting what we think we know We'll make it all a memory We're taking back control
