

The Agonist, Forget Tomorrow

Fall into flames

All that remains of me is a stepped on, thrown out piece of your enemy

All that remains of me is about to hit the ground

When you begin to deny all of your past lives

When you begin to deny that you can't defend your lies...

In total, In control

Yet thrown overboard get pulled below...

Wait patiently as it surrounds me

In vitro, freak show

Go home... go... set me free

The end is only a bloodloss, cointoss tragedy.

Blinded-eyed guilty plea.

So caught up in here and now

Walk on, walk on

Life expectancy goes down... corruption

The weakest mind will wear the crown because we all need protection

Escape is a dangerous art - addiction is the easy part.

(Please don't let me fall into flames...)

Night falls and darkness rises deep inside his skin.

Blood, sweat and tears will soon pay for this sin.

In total, In control

Yet thrown overboard get pulled below...

Wait patiently as it surrounds me

Walks towards home, thinks he's alone...

Wait and you'll see - the frust glows in his eyes.

Explanation is only a disguise for Death's now enterprise

Infiltration, Self-destruction

Felt so lonely, what a tragedy
