

The Alice Band, Let Me Be The One

Never crashed so hard before,
Hanging around in the love junk store.
Rusty bikes without their tyres,
And your voice singing down the wire.

You don't know how I feel,
Oh yeah, borrowing steel.

Let me be the one that makes you happy,
Let me be the one that gets you high.
Let me be the one that takes you over,
Picks you up so we can touch the sky.

Let me be the one that has the answers,
To all the questions that you ask.
Let me be the one that reaches out to you,
When all others pass you by.

I'm as crazy as they go,
I got to high and I got to low.
My heart was this homeless place,
With angels down in Mexico.

So tell me lies, let it rain,
Hold me close to you again.

Let me be the one that makes you happy,
Let me be the one that gets you high.
Let me be the one that takes you over,
Picks you up so we can touch the sky.

Let me be the one that has the answers,
To all the questions that you ask.
Let me be the one that reaches out to you,
When all others pass you by.

This how I wanna feel you.
This is how I wanna heal you.
And darling, this how I thought I'd dreamed you,
Out on the hills and far away.

Let me be the one that makes you happy,
Wanna be the one that gets you high.
Let me be the one that takes you over,
Picks you up so we can touch the sky.

Let me be the one that has the answers,
To all the questions that you ask.
Wanna be the one that reaches out to you,
When all others pass you by.

Let me be the one that makes you happy,
Wanna be the one that gets you high.
Let me be the one that takes you over,
Picks you up so we can touch the sky.

Let me be the one that has the answers,
To all the questions that you ask.
Wanna be the one that reaches out to you,

When all others pass you by.
