

The All-American Rejects, Too Far Gone

I should warn you
Things you're feeling, aren't normal now.
Think you need me
It's not easy, let you go some how.

Now we're too far gone,
Hope is such a waste
Every breath you take you give me the burdens bitter taste

You promise that you'd stay
You say you want to go
Your lips provide a shelter for the things that i don't know

Please speak slowly
My heart is learning
Teach me heart-ache,
Stop this burning now.

Wishful thinking
Patience shrinking, bliss is far away
North is calling
Now I'm falling, at your feet please stay

Now we're too far gone,
Hope is such a waste
Every breath you take you give
me the burdens bitter taste

You promise that you'd stay
You say you want to go
Your lips provide a shelter for the
things that i don't know

Please speak slowly
My heart is learning
Teach me heart-ache,
Stop this burning now.
