

The All American Rejects, Your Star

She screams when I'm away
She's been gone before
I worried all the time, why worry anymore?
Now I go away
Now I know today

I picked out your star
Turned night to day
A simple whisper from your voice
And I fade away
You wish for love
You push me away
Your love for me was everything I need
The air I breathe

She, now she's all alone
Her eyes they drown in tears
Their love was meant to last
She is blind with fear
Now I go away
Now I know today

I picked out your star
Turned night to day
A simple whisper from your voice
And I fade away
You wish for love
You push me away
Your love for me was everything I need
The air I breathe

Leave me be
Now I'm free
Love reflecting everything
You want space
I need you to help me see this through

There she goes
There she goes
There she goes

I picked out your star
Turned night to day
A simple whisper from your voice
And I fade away
You wish for love
You push me away
Your love for me was everything I need
The air I breathe
