

The Allman Brothers Band, Down In Texas

I left you crying at the D.C. station
Had a little spending change
Lord knows I had the determination
If you want the good life youGot to make it big That's why I left you waiting
So I could go out and dig
In this big ol' world
But now I'm

I'm Down in Texas
Ain't got one thin dime
I'm so lonely for ya baby
So tired of wasting my time

So come on down and get me
Don't blame me cause I tried
I need your lovin' so bad
Get on your train and ride

solo

Climbing up poor means
As you can see they pay you like a half a man
Girl, they work you like you're free
Here in the crowded city
I still feel alone
So take me pretty baby
Take me back home
Cause I'm so tired, yeah
Now I'm

I'm Down in Texas
Ain't got one thin dime
I'm so lonely for ya baby
So tired of wasting my time

So come on down and get me
Don't blame me cause I tried
I need your lovin' so bad
Get on your train and ride

I'm Down in Texas
Ain't got one thin dime
I'm so lonely for ya baby
So tired of wasting my time

So come on down and get me
Don't blame me cause I tried
I need your lovin' so bad
Get on your train and ride
