

The American Life, Wait

Every time there's been no change
You put up walls
You feel the same
You live your life
And it's all the same
You want to find love
But it's just a game
Just wait for the right time
And wait because this is your life
Why not me?
Why not today?
I'll take my chance
And let the night fade away
Just wait for the right time
And wait because this is your life
Thank god we made it out this time
C'mon c'mon just sing along
She needs a reason to hold on and be strong
Just wait for the right time
