

The Anchoress, What Goes Around

Around, around
You know you're gonna get what goes
Around, around
You know you're gonna get what goes
Around, around
You know you're gonna get what goes
Around comes around
So you know you're going down

Oh, no, you're gonna get it
Too slow, you shouldn't have said it
And I know that you regret it
But goes around, comes around
You know you're gonna get it
You know

When you embarks upon revenge
You better dig two graves, my friend
Revenge is a dish served cold
What goes around comes around
You know you're gonna get it

Around, around
You know you're gonna get
What goes around, around
You know you're gonna get
What goes around comes around
And you know you're gonna get
What goes around comes around
So you know you're going down

So you better watch your back
Cause every seam that you sow turn black
Never thought he would stoop so low
Now everyone will know

Oh, my god, never will believe that
Oh, my god, say you didn't mean it
Oh, my god, never will believe that
Oh, my god, say you didn't mean it

Around, around
You know you're gonna get
What goes around, around
You know you're gonna get
What goes around comes around
And you know you're gonna get
What goes around comes around
So you know you're going down

So you better watch your back
Cause every seam that you sow turn black
Never thought he would stoop so low
Now everyone will know

Oh, no, I think I said it
And you knew they would spread it
Pretty soon you'll regret
What goes around comes around
And you know you're gonna get it
Yeah, you know

And I know all about revenge
And you won't get your sticky end

I heard you practiced on my friends
You got around and now you're gonna get it

Around, around
You know you're gonna get
What goes around, around
You know you're gonna get
What goes around comes around
And you know you're gonna get
What goes around comes around
So you know you're going down

So you better watch your back
Cause every seam that you sow turn black
Never thought he would stoop so low
Now everyone will know

When you fall in the gutter I won't shed a tear
I knew that it was coming for years
It's too long, shouldn't care anymore
But there's something that you need to hear

For every action in this world there's an equal and opposite action to be considered
No, it's nothing to do with your karma, my friend
No, it's just scientific deal

Oh, my god, never will believe that
Oh, my god, say you didn't mean it
Oh, my god, never will believe that
Oh, my god, say you didn't mean it

Around, around
You know you're gonna get
What goes around, around
You know you're gonna get
What goes around comes around
And you know you're gonna get
What goes around comes around
So you know you're going down

So you better watch your back
Cause every seam that you sow turn black
Never thought he would stoop so low
Now everyone will know
