

The Animators, The Golden Age

I don't need to talk about the future
I can see how it's gonna go down
All this time, I think I knew the answer
But I believed you'd come around

I'll pretend you didn't really hurt me
You'll pretend you did nothing wrong
It's true it's true it's true we do what we want to
But in the end, we're still alone

Please don't make me decide
I won't be the alibi that helps you sleep tonight
Please, we've been here before
And I'm not your enemy, but I won't help you anymore

Close your eyes and try to remember
The Golden Age, the halcyon days
I know, I know, I know
we can't hold on forever
But sometimes we'll try anyway

I'm sick of this contest
Tired of this game
Tell me it's gonna change

Please don't make me decide
I won't be the alibi that helps you sleep tonight
Please, we've been here before
And I'm not your enemy, but I won't help you anymore

The only thing we know is change
The only way is faster
We only know a Golden Age
On the morning after x2

We only know a Golden Age
On the morning after
x2