

The Anniversary, O' Lady Butterfly

I think I might move from the city
To get away from everyone
Lady we should move from the city
To get away from everyone

Why does your love go numb? (and ain't it strange?)
There's poison in your blood (and ain't it strange?)
I shot your heart and set your spirit free
Don't let your love go numb

Troubled man shake off your worries
Or you just might lose your mind
Black bird singing in the country
City love from the blood

Why does your love go numb? (and ain't it strange?)
There's poison in your blood (and ain't it strange?)
I shot your heart and set your spirit free
Don't let your love go numb

Why does your love go numb? (and ain't it strange?)
There's poison in your blood (and ain't it strange?)
I shot your heart and set your spirit free
Don't let your love go numb

I thought I might move from the city
