

The Apples In Stereo, 7 Stars

Seven stars in the sky in the sky
You feeling sociable
Silver stars in your eyes in your eye
And you feeling emotional
And you don't even know my name
And you know every constellation

Simple lives we once left behind
We're so distracted now
Secret lives we left lived inside
We're going backwards now
And you don't even know my name
And I know every constellation

Story override story override
Do you know the reason to your mind
Story overtime story overtime
So you know the season to your mind

We're going backwards now

Silver stars in your hand in your hand
I know its seasonal
Several times I have heard your demand
You're so unreasonable
And you know even know my name
And I know every constellation

Story override story override
Do you know the reason to your mind
Story overtime story overtime
Do you know the season to your mind

And you don't even know my name
And i know every constellation

Story override story override
Do you know the reason to your mind
Story overtime story overtime
Do you know the season to your mind

Story override story override
Do you know the reason to your mind
Story overtime story overtime
Do you know the season to your mind
