

The Ark, A Virgin Like You

I have never been mean never been as bad as it may have seemed I have never been vile never been twisted or unkind maybe I'm working too hard, maybe I'm out of my mine maybe there will be a day

'cause I've been losing my way for such a very long time that now I no longer know where to go

oh, I wish I was a virgin a virgin like you
I wish I had distance
to put me through
I wish I had a burden
wish that I had a dream I wish I was as simple as you seem here we go again when every direction leads to pain and the one left I know is the one that I'm most certain I don't want to go

maybe there will be a day, maybe I'm out of my head maybe love wosen't for us
'cause I've been losing my touch
that I no longer know very much at all

I wish I was a virgin
a virgin like you
to put me through
wish that I had a dream
I wish I was as simple as you seem

there was a time when I was a man and everything was easy to understand but now I'm floating like a shipwreck shrunk to fit in a foreign land
I have never been mean,
never been as bad as it may have seemd
