The Ataris, Not A Worry In The World

Do you remember all the things we did? And what it's like to be a kid. Being young and skipping school, I guess we must have broken every rule!

I never thought those times would last forever, But now that they're gone I'm pretty sure we grew up too fast.

I've had my wishes on a star I hope that yours came true. Now all I've got is a memory of you.

(Chorus) Not a worry in.. (x7) ... the world!

I remember when you moved away, You promised me that you'd be back one day, But times have changed and so have I, It sucks that friendships end With a goodbye.

I never thought that friendships last forever. But now that you're gone I'm pretty sure we end up all the same. Still I won't say goodbye. Won't ever say goodbye. And know that I'll always be your friend.
