The Audition, Love With A Motive

I was too proud to call you that night

I couldn't run

I know running gets old in a way

You sure know how to make or break a day

Well, you just fled the scene

So hard to breathe

You think a lot about yourself so much

For someone who relies

On someone else's trust

I cower to your touch

You think I'd be the one to let go

So carry on

Thrilling to know

There is no control

She's got the soul of poet

And the fire of a bullet

She is what she is

Nothing less or unspoken

She don't love you no more

She's in love with a motive, yeah

This jealousy can't hold me over

I can't get mad

You know that anger gets all in your way

My jealous mind

It hates it but takes it

Those haunting memories

Are laced with secrets

Although I'm hard-pressed

To back from a fight

You think that this would end soon

But it's taking its time

Confusion, it is such an all-time bad written melody

Of course you'd sing

Please carry on

Thrilling to know

There is no control

She's got the soul of poet

And the fire of a bullet

She is what she is

Nothing less or unspoken

She don't love you no more

She's in love with a motive, yeah

Ask about her ways and her secret life

She'll say yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah

Ask her if she thinks she can sleep at night

She'll say yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah

Ask about her ways and her secret life

Ask her if she thinks she can sleep at night

Thrilling to know

There is no control

She's got the soul of poet

And the fire of a bullet

Thrilling to know

There is no control

She's got the soul of poet

And the fire of a bullet

She is what she is

Nothing less or unspoken

She don't love you no more

She's in love with a motive, yeah

She's in love, she's in love

She's in love, she's in love

She's in love

She don't love you no more

She's in love with a motive, yeah
