

The Autumn Offering, Revelation

Welcome the prince
Of a royal family
We accept your heritage
Of carnage, and all of
The dirty dealings
Heir to a throne
By all means, necessary
All hail to the
Thieves of democracy

Take some action
And reclaim that
Which at once
We held in the
Palms of our hands
Overthrow the incompetent
Consider the source
Off with the serpents head
Rape our traditions and values
As they are left for dead
Victimizing demons
While demonizing victims
Look past the lie

Divide, conquer
Pillage, destroy

First of the agenda
Fulfill the patriarchs revenge
And reeking havoc upon our land
Let me ask one question,
Who children did you slaughter
Before your rest today

Divide, conquer
Pillage, destroy
Divide, conquer
Pillage, destroy

Take some action
And reclaim
That which at once
We held in our hands
Overthrow the incompetent
Consider the source
Off with the serpents head
Off with the serpents head
Rape our traditions and values
As they are left for dead
Victimizing demons
While demonizing victims
Look past the lie
Look past the lie

Rape our traditions and values
Victimizing demons
While demonizing victims

Look past the lie
Look past the lie
Look past the lie
