

The Avenir, Fade Out Lines

Deeper down

It's everywhere I look
From Las Vegas to right here
Under your dresser
Right by your ear
It's creeping in sweetly
It's definitely here
There's nothing more deadly
Than slow growing fear
Life was full and fruitful
And you could take a real bite
The juice poring well over
Your skins delight
But the shadow it grows
And takes the depth away
Leaving broken down pieces
To this priceless ballet

The shallower it grows
The shallower it grows
The fainter we go
Into the fade out line
The shallower it grows
The shallower it grows
The fainter we go
Into the fade out line

Did we build all those bridges
To watch them thin down to dust
Or blow them voluntarily
Out of constant trust
The clock is ticking its last couple of tocks
And there won't be a party with weathering frocks

The shallower it grows
The shallower it grows
The fainter we go
Into the fade out line
The shallower it grows
The shallower it grows
The fainter we go
Into the fade out line

Heading deeper down
We're sliding without noticing
Our own decline
Heading deeper down
We're hanging onto
Deeper down
Deeper down
Deeper down
Down deeper down yeah

Did we build all those bridges
To watch them thin down to dust
And there won't be a party with weathering frocks

Did we build all those bridges

To watch them thin down to dust

The shallower it grows
The shallower it grows
The fainter we go
The shallower it grows
The fainter we go
