

The Awkward Romance, Hearts And Sleeves

Home is where your heart is but your home is dead
With an ego to match your narcissism
The sleeve is where your heart should be
But you swell it all inside your head instead
You swell it inside

Excuses, commitments
And in the end, is it really worth it all?
Excuses, commitments
And in the end, is it really worth it all?
(Excuses, commitments)

If it's really all about you, just move along
Leave me in the dust but leave me alone
I thought I knew who you really were
I guess I was never really sure

Excuses, commitments
And in the end, is it really worth it all?
Excuses, commitments
And in the end, is it really worth it all?
Excuses, commitments
And in the end, is it really worth it all?
Excuses, commitments
And in the end, is it really worth it all?

So why, so why?
So why, so why?
So why, so why are you here?
So why, so why pretend you're there?

Excuses, commitments
And in the end, is it really worth it all?
(So why, so why are you here?
So why, so why pretend you're there?)
Excuses, commitments
And in the end, is it really worth it all?
(So why, so why are you here?
So why, so why pretend you're there?)
Excuses, commitments
And in the end, is it really worth it all?
Excuses, commitments
And in the end, is it really worth it all?
