

The Awkward Romance, Stargazer Vs. Shoegaze

we can live like spies in a small town uncover secrets about the lives we've always known discover meanings and reasons for being and then pretend that we still can't see still can't see sit down, take off your mask and stay a while (we'll make our rounds with old hands who count us among the trite few who live their lives like an unopened bottle of champagne) i wanna be stargazer i wanna be stargazer go to bed, get up again, day out, day in and i can barely breathe
