

The Be Good Tanyas, A Little Blues

Well here I am, undone again.
I know I'll see you, I just don't know when.
Little stars, all a 'twinkling,
I wonder where you are, I wonder what you're thinking.
I know I gave my heart a little soon,
I walk for miles underneath the moon,
I sing this sad, lonesome little tune
For you.
(fiddle solo)
A little patch of grass, under the overpass,
I'll rest for hours, amid the flowers,
Just a tiny bird with a little song
And when the sun comes up, I'll be long gone
