

The Beach Boys, Breakaway

Time will not wait for me
Time is my destiny
Why change the part of me that has to be free

The love that passed me by I found no reason why but now each day is day filled with the love that very same love that passed me by
and that is why

I can break away from that lonely life
And I can do what I wanna do
And break away from that empty life
And my world is new

When I laid down in my bed
I heard voices in my head Tellin me now hey, it's only a dream

Before I thought of it
I had been out of it And here's the answer I found instead Found out it's in my head
Found out it's in my head
Found out it's in my head

I can break away to a better life
Where the shackles never hold me down I'm gonna make a way for each happy day as my like turns around

Break away
break away
break away
break away
break away
