

The Bears, Little Blue River

all your tears
make me shiver sometimes i think you're a little blue river i don't want to see you cry but i've got to leave tonight the floor is filled with all my things now i know what fortune brings all my talk just fills the air it always leaves us nowhere everybody's faucet drips on every wall something sticks