

The Bears, Safe in Hell

don't worry about me i'm safe in hell don't cry for my soul i'm living well
i'm free from my creditors i'm free from your bleeding hearts gone are my responsibilities and every false start and all my good intentions were just footsteps on the way and now every minute feels like saturday i don't have to make good on anything 'cause there are no pretensions i just say whatever i like 'cause no one pays attention and all of you who sit and wonder what we do down here we try to remember fear and if i could i'd write you all a letter and say if life is good then death is better
