

The Becoming, The One To Hurt You

Let's step out into the night
Darling don't you dare think twice
I know all about how hard it is to trust someone
In the place where love is found
I can only let you down
I don't want to be the one to hurt you
Why do I do what I do?
Pushing you away again
Father as I hold your hand
Still holding onto all I have
I hope death will take me over before life lets go
In the place where love is found
I can only let you down
I don't want to be the one to hurt you
Why do I do what I do?
Pushing you away again
In the place where love is found
I can only let you down
And in the seas of love I drown
But in the depths your face I found
I don't want to be the one to hurt you
Why do I do what I do?
Pushing you away again
