

The Benjamin Gate, The Calling

I see the fire in your eyes and I hope for the world that it never dies
I felt the softness of your inner core all your intentions so pure and so raw

CHORUS

I hear you calling, don't look away
We hear you calling
Don't turn away

I see what you could become
I know that your doubt will be undone
And as time brings a change
There'll be no holding you back again
I heard you whisper gently
But it's only when you stand on your own that you'll be free

CHORUS

I hear you calling, don't look away
We hear you calling
Don't turn away

I hear you calling
We hear you calling

Isolation won't be your protection

I hear you calling, don't look away
We hear you calling
Don't hide away
