

The Berzerker, Compromise

I see,
No chance
Relying on myself
I take away
Responsibility
They drain my life
I purge the pot they breed in
First I must take pride and not ponder
A day to stay
Don't underestimate
I take away
The task that you failed
I ache but I, I fought them till it didn't matter
For they must change now or before I burst,
Those around me
Are incomprehensible
Is harder to bear
With my backache
Fortunately
I take great pride
(I'm) before my time
No demise
Compromise
I can see you're watching me
But could you even understand my pain
Watching, what is it in your brain that never gets it?
One day I'll disappear to the answer locked in my Head that you'll never see or feel,
A consumer

The more the body is pierced, tortured, wounded, humiliated
the more complete his man's victory over pain,
the greater man's victory over pain ,
the greater his victory over the flesh.

I see that they
That people are a plague
No sympathy
No liability
They drain my life
We'll see the life they're living
Once I stop all I'm doing for them.
