

The Better World, Before And After

Before and after
(Matt Coban)

And you don't know what tomorrow holds
Can't believe we sold our souls that blind
It just takes a little time
To take back what they said to you
And make up for all the things they knew but lied
How could this be right?
And everything was beautiful
Till you knocked down all the walls in my mind
Don't walk away
Don't walk away
Just take it from my hands
And put it in someone else's
No one around here will realize what they found
And I still believe I'm thinking too much of myself

No one knows there way around here
I've been there, done that, dried the tears, still I hide
So why is it your fine?
You gave my life a change of pace
Though everything could use some change, I'm alive
But you've taken all that's mine
And everything was beautiful
Till you knocked down all the walls in my mind
Don't walk away
Don't walk away
Just take it from my hands
And put it in someone else's
No one around here will realize what they found
And I still believe I'm thinking too much of myself

And I still believe, I'm thinking too much of myself
