

The Better World, Time Travel

Time Travel
(Matt Coban)

Afraid of asking where were going
Can't hang on to this moment anymore
I felt you along the way, couldn't breathe till it was over
Now it's all inside my head
If I could go back in time
I can make things right
If I knew what it is I'd find
I'd be alright for now

There's no point left in asking
Can't think with all this anger anymore

Now you're right beneath my feet, but still within my reach
And these stupid thoughts keep running through my head
If I could go back in time
I can make things right
If I knew what it is I'd find
I'd be alright for now

And I'd be someone else
And I'd be someone else
I'd be someone else
Forever
