

The Black Halos, The Worst Things

Falling in love is like donating blood
One person gives and the other one sucks
No one feels the hopelessness 'till it's gone

You take the beat baby, I'll take the blame
Reach for your heart and I'll leave you in pain
I'll keep you entertained until dawn

I'm looking for something new to take
You're looking for something new to break
If you want something safe
This ain't the place

'Cause I'm looking at a target straight through you
And all the damage I can do

(Chorus:)
The worst things I can do... to you

This ain't no gamble it's a fight to survive
You've got to live like you've got luck on your side
I lay it all on the line
'Cause you're mine

You want the truth but you're caught in the lie
And no one really gives a shit if we die
If you want some proof
Just look in their eyes

They're looking for something new to take
You're looking for something new to break
If you want something safe
This ain't the place

'Cause we're looking at a target right through you
And all the damage we can do

All the worst things I can do
That's what I'll do to you
'Cause I've fallen in love with you
And that's the worst thing I can do