

The Bouncing Souls, No Comply

I'm on the outside looking in, that's where my story begins.

Took the pain of growing up and I walked on through,
this is how I'm showing up.

I feel great, how about you?

So here I stand out on my own, myself the only truth that I've known

I went through all the things that I had to do.

You know sometimes it stings but I feel great how about you?

Playing life just like a game,
good or bad it's all the same

Let the world know how I feel,
and you know it's real,

and you know I'm real
