

The Bouncing Souls, Serenity

I spent some time saying some things i didn't want to say convincing someone of something about me not a lie but not the truth in a way. Slipping into a suit and tie or walking in some shoes i got lost in that disguise i guess i had something to prove but the proof is there in what i do talk is cheap and clothes make the man if it's not a disguise and you know where you stand. I'm a clown i'm a monkey maybe i'm a jerk whatever you make me out to be but i know the difference and what you say dosen't matter to me. I don't care what you think i'm gonna do what i have to do. Say what you wanna say talk's a waste of time with you.
