

The Brat Attack, Spark

Consume abide what the mass media dictates
This shallow culture of fear seems to eradicate
Our community's strength determines our own fate
We fall to the allure of mass consumption
Reject this fear, embrace my anger, unleash this firestorm
We are on the brink of revolution
These nation states execution
Defiance is sweltering in the streets
One spark is all we truly need
Suburban lockdown, populace subverted
Frustration of a nation, this retaliation
Chains of consumerism are deterred
The masses are tired of manipulation
We want to burn it all down
