

The Bravery, Give In

All I want is everything
Everything that I'll ever be
Everyone that's coming for me
Nothing happens and everything is changed
All I want is everything to stay the same

Will you give in?

All I want is everything
All the words and the truths between
Everything you're keeping from me

I've been staring back in my eyes for a while
I think they never stop moving

All I want is everything
All the things that you think of me
All you've tricked yourself to believe
