The Byrds, Bugler

Written by Larry Murray

Back when Cattle Creek used to sing it's waters were sweet and its banks were green and sunny days, went on forever Me and old Bugler, we'd run wild bluetick hound and the redneck child we thought we were, birds of a feather

Ah the fish would bite, my how they'd bite we'd catch them possoms in the pail moonlight for ma, just to please her Bugler's voice like Gabriel's horn up in the cypress, all down through the corn golden sounds, yes to treasure

CHORUS

Bugler, Bugler, bless your hide Jesus gonna take you for a chariot ride Say Goodbye, Say Goodbye

One day Ma she brought the news She said, honey young Bugler's done paid his dues he's been hit down, yes on that highway Dry your eyes and stand up straight Bugler's got a place at the pearly gates Say goodbye sugar, Oh say goodbye
