

The Cab, Risky Business

Hide the key
'Cause I'm coming over
To settle the score, whoa
Don't forget how well I know you
Stop asking, keep dancing.
You don't stand a chance, girl
You'll fall apart, talking with your hands, girl
You'll have to start over, over again
Baby, I'll come up and call you out
Maybe, next time you should turn around
Over, over again
Put put put your heart where your mouth is
Put put put your heart where your mouth is now.
Hide the key
'Cause I'm coming over
To settle the score, whoa
Stop asking, keep dancing.
You think that I'm blind, girl
My eyes are always floating in your mind, girl
You'll have to start over, over again.
Maybe, I'm the one that plays the game
Maybe, I dare to make the scene the same
Over, over again.
Baby you should
Put put put your heart where your mouth is
Put put put your heart where your mouth is now
Hide the key
'Cause I'm coming over
To settle the score, whoa
Don't forget how well I know you
I'll take take, take take you down.
Stop asking, keep dancing
I'm talking about change
You really wanna see the rain
But if you wanna see me
Then you need to settle down
Hide the key
'Cause I'm coming over
To settle the score, whoa
Don't forget how well I know you
I'll take take
I'll take take you down
