The Carpenters, Solitaire

There was a man A lonely man Who lost his love Through his indifference

A heart that cared That went unshared Until it died Within his silence

And solitare's the only game in town And every road that takes him Takes him down And by himself it's easy to pretend He'll never love again

And keeping to himself he plays the game Without her love It always ends the same While life goes on around him everywhere He's playing solitaire

A little hope Goes up in smoke Just how it goes Goes without saying

There was a man A lonely man Who would command The hand he's playing

And solitare's the only game in town And every road that takes him Takes him down And by himself it's easy to pretend He'll never love again

And keeping to himself he plays the game Without her love It always ends the same While life goes on around him everywhere He's playing solitaire

And solitare's the only game in town

And every road that takes him Takes him down While life goes on around him everywhere He's playing solitaire
