The Clash, One More Time

Must I get a witness? for all this misery There's no need to, brothers everybody can see That its one more time in the ghetto you know One more time if you please now One more time to the dying man They say one more time if you please

The old lady kicks karate For just a little walk down the street The little baby he knows kung fu He tries it on those he meets Cos its a one more time!

You don't need no silicone to calculate poverty Watch when Watts town burns again The bus goes to Montgomery

Cos it's a one more time in the ghetto One more time if you please One more time for the dying man One more time to be free
