

The Click Five, Flipside

It's been a long long time since everything was cool
I should have seen it coming but I guess I'm not the only fool

There's something growing on the outside
And too much missing on the inside
Should I waste my time and let you lead me on and on and on and on

Waiting for the day when I'm complete without you
I'm doing what I can to let you be Making sure there's nothing showing on the outside
Something's dying on the inside
I'm still broken
But I'm free
I'll see you on the flipside

I've got a bruised up heart but I'm still hanging on I should take it easy but I'm still gonna get around
There's something growing on the outside
and too much missing on the inside
Should I waste my time when everything is done and done and over done

Waiting for the day when I'm complete without you
I'm doing what I can to let you be Making sure there's nothing showing on the outside
Something's dying on the inside
I'm still broken
But I'm free
I'll see you on the flipside

I'll see you on the flipside
Nothing showing on the outside
Somethings dying on the inside

Waiting for the day when I'm complete
I'm doing what I can to let you be
Nothing showing on the outside
Something's dying on the inside
I'm still broken
But I'm free
I'll see you on the flipside