The Connells, Ten Pins

All alone, you sit by the hour You're waiting for the sun to rise In the night you sit by the fire You're waiting for the will to fight

Chorus: But I won't see you there Ten pins down No I won't see you there Ten pins down

And you know that lines get me down I'm waiting for the sun to rise In the night we'll sit for awhile We're waiting for the will to fight

(repeat chorus)

Never needing to decide There's always another lie-down You don't seem to know It's happening over and over

(repeat chorus)
