

The Cure, A Fragile Thing

Every time you kiss me, I could cry she said
Don't tell me how you miss me
I could die tonight of a broken heart
This loneliness will change
And we feel too far apart
We know that we're too far apart
Every time that we're apart
It's too late now for me to just forget
I never thought I'd lead you to
Regret all I ever was
All this time alone has left
Me cold inside and lost
Yeah, every time you kiss me i could cry
Don't tell me how you miss me
I could die tomorrow of a broken heart
This loneliness will change
And we feel too far apart
Nothing you can say to change
It back she said
Nothing you can do to but sing
This song is a fragile thing
Nothing you can do to turn it back she said
Nothing you can do to turn it back she said
Nothing you can do but sing
This song is a fragile thing
This song is my everything
But nothing you can do to change the end
There's nothing you can do
Every time you leave me is a lie she said
You make believe you need me
But you try too hard and I feel so wrong
You promised me forever
And say we all belong
But it's too late now for me to just forget
I never thought I'd lead you to
Regret all I ever was
But all this time alone has left
Me cold inside and lost
Yeah, every time you need me is a lie
You make believe you need me
But you try too hard I feel so wrong
You promised me forever
And say it won't be long
There's nothing I can do to Change it back she said
Nothing you can do to but sing
This song is a fragile thing
Nothing you can do now but pretend again
Nothing you can do to change it back she said
Nothing you can do to but sing
This song is a fragile thing
This song is my everything
Nothing you can do to change the end
There's nothing you can do to change the end
