The Cure, Coming Up

Yeah it's a snow white original mix And she's fixing me And the heartless thing she does Is everything I love It's all I ever need Yeah it's a skin tight sensational strip And she's tripping me And the shameless way she turns... Is all I ever dream You ask me why I use it It could be just a way To pass the time I never really choose it It's just another play To lose... My mind... Yeah it's a bright light Promotional taste And she's wasting me And the tearless time she breaks Is everytime I ache It's all I ever feel You ask me why I need it It's maybe just a way To pass the time I never really mean it It's just another play To lose... My mind... Yeah it's a big night emotional kill And she's thrilling me And the careless way she hurts... Is all I ever scream You ask me why I take it It could be just a way To pass the time I never really make it It's just another play to lose... I'm coming up in the dark And every part of me is bruised and raw And pained I'm coming up in the dark And every part of me is loose and sore And stained And so I play it when I use it If I need it Then I take it And I play it all again... And then I hold you... So cold you... Like I know you... Yeah like I always know And like I always lose... My mind... My mind... Yeah I play it when I use it If I need it Then I take it And I play it all again... And then I hold you... So cold you... Like I know you... Yeah like I always know And like I always lose

Yeah like I always lose Like I always lose... My mind
